The premise seems cool in that its basically World of Tanks meets Twisted Metal. I would really like to play with a full lobby but I don't see that happening anytime soon. Right now I wouldn't recommend it since you really need players to actually enjoy this. Maybe look into giving your game a little more press before releasing your game on early access.

I would wait until the game fully launches, or the game picks up more players before purchasing.. So far its been a great time! Been playing local multiplayer on my cousins account and we dumped a good few hours into it. A fun beat em up with diablo style loot and randomly generated dungeons.. Best game ever!!!. The short review is that the game is fantastic. It's priced at $10 as of the writing of this review, and it's worth it, but getting on sale would be better!

Except for one point, the story was excellent, the feel of the game was great and very immersive in 1930s New York, the soundtrack kicked butt, the puzzles were intelligible (I knew exactly what to do most of the time, but there was just the right amount of difficulty in getting it done), and I thought the humor of the protagonist was fantastic, but I like dry humor. The connect-the-dots mechanic was pretty inventive. I thought and added a good detective story even better. IMHO. The mannequins were probably the worst part of the game because they sometimes looked or did things that weren't right, but almost all point and click adventure puzzles suffer from this. My second complaint would be all the Dannazionis that were liberally peppered throughout the game. It was a bit overused.

To address some complaints about the story being too linear or limiting in that I can't grab an object or do something now, but can later on when the story advances, I actually thought it made sense and, once again, is something most point and click adventure games do. I actually didn't mind because I viewed it as a story-focused game and that stream-lined it so that I could enjoy the story instead of getting caught up in picking up a bunch of useless stuff that I didn't need and wouldn't use.

SPOILER ALERT AHEAD!

The one thing I didn't like about the story was the paranormal element that was thrown in regarding the girl. While she is basically the MacGuffin for Face Noir, there is this allusion to her being able to control time and dreams and that she is going to do something supernatural in the sequel. This kind of threw me out of the immersiveness that the rest of the game established so well. The supernatural really has no place in a good noir story. Read any of the hard-boiled detective writers like Raymond Chandler, Dashiell Hammett, and Mickey Spillane that typified the detective/Noir writing and none of them ever got caught up in that stuff. I also thought that its introduction in the last 1/3 of the game kind of blindsided me after being so true to the hard-boiled detective genre for the first 2/3 of the game.

I do look forward to Face Noir II, though. Great job!. Pretty good game for $5. Very engaging. I got very nervous when I bought a stock, and a random event happened a few days later that caused the stock to plunge, putting me half a million dollars in the hole, but eventually I rode it out and was able to break even.. ehh this game wasnt all too fun as i hoped it would be. i love rpg maker games which is why i bought it. but my expectations were too high.. What is this game about?

- * eating
- * more eating
- * grow and grow and grow and grow...
- * TO SUM IT UP: This is a simulation about more than one mass murderer.

Pros:

- + the graphic is cute
- + let's players liked it (Gronkh)
- + pure sarcasm (strike back against the oil industry and probably the whole world)
- + nano-shark...
- + the soundtrack inspired me to a song
- + more than one character, bonus level after bonus level and that all without paying more than once!
- + the end of the game :-)

>This game is awesome, i really can recommend it!. Dont waste time at this crap. It is just terrible.

I honestly want to like this game, unfortunately I can't. I saw this the day it was announced and I was so excited, all because my favorite movie is Jurassic Park. I can't recommend this game only mainly because of it's extremely long loading times. I spent about 40 minutes in the game, and didn't even get to finish the tutorial because of how long I waited, and I just got fed up. So yes, I will be refunding. And I don't recommend this game.. needs keyboard support ...

but saying that great game .. been a skateboarder for 12 years and this is the closest to skate u can get on pc. Amazingly beautiful and tricky puzzle game. A fun adventure.. Story is well thought out and very engaging. Interesting puzzles. Great game.. I played this game pulling an all nighter waiting for a college project video to render. It was short (about 2.5 hours) but every second was a story that I could never get bored of. The idea of unlocking ending once you have seen the way each choice takes you along with the ability to quickly jump back to those key moments was a really nice touch. I feel like some games have way too many choices and not enough well thought out story. This game is the opposite. I always felt like my few actions were impactful and that I was a part of the story. By the time I was done I was in tears and no... I'm not at all ashamed of it. :)

Overall fantastic game and worth every penny.. Zuma got me here. I wanted to get this due to the similar gameplays.
